Whole Blood Hemostasis – Platelet Function Testing

Monday, 28th November 2022, 5:30–6:30 pm

Why do we need platelet function testing in Interventional Neuroradiology?

Prof. Dr. Omid Nikoubashman

*University Hospital RWTH Aachen,
Department for Diagnostic and Interventional Neuroradiology*

The management of platelet aggregation is of enormous importance in interventional neuroradiology and represents a daily challenge in achieving an optimal outcome for each patient.

The aim is to increase knowledge about platelet function in neurovascular interventions and to explain the clinical relevance of antiplatelet monitoring, based on the current literature and illustrated by clinical cases.

Take this opportunity and look forward to an exciting lecture.
